PART E – READING COMPREHENSION

A MEMORABLE SCHOOL FESTIVAL

Last Saturday, our school had a big festival. It was a very memorable day for all the students.

Many students were involved in the festival. Some students were engaged in music activities, while others prepared games and food.

The festival was very festive and diverse. Students brought food from different countries. We also had a traditional Turkish music show and a colorful parade.

Our English teacher, Mrs. Brown, prepared a small English game. She used a handheld tablet as a learning tool. The tablet was portable, so she could take it everywhere.

The students had a clear goal: they wanted to learn new English words and have fun. Mrs. Brown's aim was to help students learn English in a more creative way.

Some students felt anxiety before the game because they were afraid of making mistakes. Mrs. Brown told them, “Don't worry. Mistakes are part of learning. You can cope with difficult situations.”

After the game, the students completed a short assessment. Mrs. Brown used it to evaluate their learning.

One student, Ali, said, “I love this activity. In my opinion, learning with games is better than only studying from a book.”

At the end of the festival, the students watched a short movie. It included a funny stunt. Everyone laughed and had a great time.
